WHAT: Park Board Call for Volunteers from Greater Cincinnati Disney's "Give a Day, Get a Day"

The Cincinnati Park Board is proud to partner with Disney to provide fun and fulfilling service projects for you and your family. Disney is promoting community service in 2010, and getting involved in your community. Volunteer in Parks for a day, and Disney will give you a one day pass to either Disney World or Disney Land!

HOW IT WORKS: Visit www.disneyparks.com to register for the "Give a Day Get a Disney Day" program. GIVE a day of service to Cincinnati Parks by volunteering for one of our approved opportunities, and get a FREE day at Disney—a one-day pass per person, up to eight per family (an $80 value per person)!

To become an official Parks Volunteer, visit the Disney website 'Give a Day' volunteer opportunity portal, (www.disneyparks.com or www.handsonnetwork.org/disney) and search for Cincinnati Parks. Sign up for an opportunity of your choice and serve 6 hours in your neighborhood park, Nature Center or Greenspace. We will confirm your commitment, and Disney will send you an admission voucher to the Disneyland or DisneyWorld Resort of your choice! Admission ticket must be used by December 15, 2010. View complete program terms and conditions at www.disneyparks.com

ABOUT VOLUNTEERING FOR CINCINNATI PARKS

Cincinnati Parks is rated one of the best park systems in the nation, and our volunteers play a key role in our success. In 2009, volunteers gave over 90,000 hours of service to Cincinnati Parks! On a daily basis volunteers are out in our Parks, at Krohn Conservatory, in Nature Centers, working on trails, providing customer service, helping with special events, and much more. To learn more about volunteer opportunities in Parks, contact Christyl Johnson, at the Cincinnati Parks volunteer office at (513) 861-8970 X31, or email Christyl.johnson@cincinnati-oh.gov
