The Banks is a mixed-use development project that will be the premier shopping, dining, residential, and office destination on the banks of the Ohio River. This vibrant riverfront development will include a variety of residential options, entertainment venues including restaurants and bars, riverfront offices and hospitality spaces, and an expansive green riverfront park. This first of its kind project in Cincinnati will benefit the entire Greater Cincinnati region. The Banks will be a catalyst for regional economic growth that will provide a place to live for more than 3,000 residents and create opportunities for businesses and individuals during construction. The Banks development is being managed in a collaborative spirit by the City of Cincinnati, Hamilton County, Carter Dawson Company, and Messer Construction.
