Cincinnati Parks Presents Annual Mt. Airy Forest Festival at Oak Ridge Lodge

Free outdoor festival celebrates the fall season

CINCINNATI, OH: ---The Cincinnati Park Board is pleased to present the 2003 Mt. Airy Forest Festival at Oak Ridge Lodge on Saturday, October 25th from Noon -5:00 p.m. Greater Cincinnatians are invited to come to the beautiful Mt. Airy Forest and celebrate the beginning of the fall season. Mt. Airy Forest is located at 5083 Colerain Avenue in Mt. Airy. The 2003 Mt. Airy Forest Festival at Oak Ridge Lodge is FREE and open to the public.

The Cincinnati Park Board, in partnership with The Mt. Airy Town Council presents a fun-filled afternoon of outdoor fun for the whole family. The festival activities will include: a lumberjack show, a 19th century living history reenactment village with cooking and craft demonstrations, aerial tree rescue demonstrations, nature education programs and exhibits, live animal displays, craft vendors, food concessions, continuous musical entertainment --- and more!

Mt. Airy Forest is the Cincinnati Park Board's largest park containing 1,500 acres of urban forest, and offers picturesque wooded hills, valleys, picnic areas, hiking/bridal trails, streams, gardens and wildlife. The forest had its origins in 1911 as one of the first municipal reforestation projects in the United States.

This event is a production of Johnny Schott Talent & Events, Inc.
